

Please do not weaken the Indiana telephone privacy rules. It has been such a welcome relief to not be interrupted during evening meals and activities by telemarketers seeking to provide me another unwanted credit card or a "prize" that I have won. If I need something from my bank, I will contact them.